Release ◉ Letting go ◉ Trust

Over a period of 9 weeks we meet for 90 'each to release deep-seating topics and blockages, to let them go and to grow deeply into your trust. Are you ready to face yourself and go through these healing processes? Each of the evenings include a workshop, channeling and meditation. We work with metaphysical and physical tools such as crystals, our body and healing sound.

In the protected environment of 6 wonderful people there is space for what YOU need, to go through the intense experiences. Look forward to these healing encounters.

In this valuable circle of deepest love, being accompanied by Corina White Feather is sometimes very challenging. Facing this leads you directly to your powerful, authentic essence of your SoulMission.

Create YOUR reality and live it fully authentic and free.

Your first step in trust starts here. The strength and at the same time valuable essence of White Feather is to work out of the moment. This gives you to let yourself in, to simply allow yourself to fall into what is, to let it create out of the NOW for you or create yourself. Look forward to moments full of love, light & essential power.

We look forward to you!
